DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claims 11-15 are objected to because currently they depend from claim 12. Applicants might have intended for them to depend from claim 10 instead. For the purpose of this Office Action, these claims are being treated on the merits as if they were depended from claim 10.

Claims 17-23 are objected to because currently they depend from claim 18. Applicants might have intended for them to depend from claim 16 instead. For the purpose of this Office Action, these claims are being treated on the merits as if they were depended from claim 18.

Appropriate correction is required.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-28 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-18 of U.S. Patent No. 6,684,529. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims in the instant application are merely broader than that of in the U.S. Patent No. 6,684,529.

The claims in the U.S. Patent No. 6,684,529 anticipate the claims in the instant applicant.

Therefore, the two sets of claims are not patentably distinct.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Norquist (U.S. Patent No. 2,076,040). Norquist discloses in Figure 1 a hot air generator (1) connected to a supply conduit (2). A plurality of branch ducts (3) support a plurality of respective hair drying helmets (4) extending downwardly from the supply conduit (2). Figure 1 also illustrates a flexible member (84) which terminates in a nozzle (85) and operable to aid in manual manipulation of the flexible member (84). The introductory statement of intended use and all other functional statements have been carefully considered but deemed not to impose any structural limitations on the claims distinguishable over the Norquist device in the sense of 35 USC 102 which is capable of being used as set forth in the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3743

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 10, 11, and 13-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Norquist (U.S. Patent No. 2,076,040). Norquist discloses in Figure 1 a hair drying apparatus comprising elements as recited in these claims. With regards to stanchion (5) having an upper portion which extends at least five feet above the ground, as recited, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to arrange the Norquist's apparatus to best fit the height of the user. Therefore, extending the upper portion of the stanchion (5) above five feet or at any height would be deemed within reasonable and ordinary scope of invention.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
